TIME: 10:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.

“Money Market Funds decimated by rules intended to save them.”

- Bloomberg

What happened?

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) passed a rule, effective October 2016, which requires money market funds (MMFs) to switch from a fixed net asset value (NAV) to a floating NAV, causing many MMF managers to liquidate their funds and exit the MMF business.

Bottom-line

This rule negatively affects manufacturers by:

- 1) Causing borrowing costs to rise above the Fed's recent interest rate increases;
- 2) Reducing your potential return on short-term cash flow investments.

Solving the problem

Join this webinar to hear a complete explanation of the issue and learn what businesses can do to fix this problem.

Who should participate?

- Corporate finance officers
- Financial planners, budgeters and forecasters
- Government affairs professionals
