Manufacturers Commend Gov. Kasich and Administrator Morrison on Plan to Rebate $1B in Premiums

Plan provides a one-time rebate of $1 billion for Ohio employers and public-taxing districts

[COLUMBUS]: Today's announcement by Governor Kasich and Bureau of Workers' Compensation (BWC) CEO/Administrator Sarah Morrison is good news for Ohio's manufacturers.

"Under the leadership of Governor Kasich and Administrator Morrison, the BWC is improving on many fronts and today's announcement is just another example of how the agency continues to be responsive to the economic needs of employers while improving services to injured workers. Money going to back to the employer only happens because of prudent financial management and operational efficiencies. The announcement today is another example of the BWC working to make Ohio's workers' compensation system a competitive advantage for Ohio," said OMA president Eric Burkland.
