WorkAdvance Unlocks Career Path for Undecided High School Graduate

Vincent Infantino had a lot of career uncertainty after graduating high school. However, when he moved to Warren from Pennsylvania last year, it wasn't long until he found stability.

"I was looking for a job, but I just didn't know what I should do, or what I should look for," Infantino said.

His mother came across information about the WorkAdvance program online and told him about the opportunity.

Infantino applied right away, and he was accepted into the July 2024 cohort in Warren.

SETTING UP FOR SUCCESS

From day one, WorkAdvance provided him with technical training and invaluable job readiness support.

Infantino credits the instructors' guidance and hands-on learning experiences for building his confidence and capability. That was especially important when it came to math courses.

"They are always willing to help. If you have a question, they'll come over, sit down next to you, and break the problem down for you."

By the end of the program, he had multiple job offers but ultimately decided to work for Jet Stream International in Niles.

STABILITY, GROWTH AND GOOD PAY

Infantino stressed that he was drawn by the company's strong benefits and growth opportunities.

He started out as a robotic welder, utilizing skills he had first learned in high school. Now, he's expanded his role, moving into fabrication and other essential tasks.

His supervisors describe him as "determined and hard-working". Infantino also offered praise for the company.

"Everybody is very kind and helpful. I honestly haven't had people this kind in a workplace before."

The financial stability that came with his new career has also been life-changing.

“This job leaves me in an amazing financial state. I make more than enough money for my age. I am planning to buy a new car soon, too,” he said.

There are also bonus checks given at the company, which can increase every year.

Reflecting on his career journey, Infantino knows he made the right choice.

“I wouldn’t have been able to do what I’m doing without this program. Don’t hesitate to make the leap.
